

feelings liquid imagination

Paint is not just a tin of coloured liquid you grab off a shelf and stick on a wall. Paint is understanding a customer's requirements and expectations. Then meeting them. Paint is making sure that the right decisions are made, long before a brush is picked up. Paint is offering a colour range that always inspires. Paint is something that should be able to withstand 3,000 scrubs and still look freshly painted. Paint is making sure the exterior of a building looks as good as the interior. Paint is about enhancing our environment, not damaging it.
